

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to an alcohol-free composition comprising high concentrations of kavalactones, compounds found in the extracts of kava-kava root. In accordance with the present invention, the compositions provide for quick relief and reduction of daily stress and anxiety in adults. The invention also relates to methods of using and making the concentrated kavalactone compositions.

20298377.doc